PX Series Olive Oil Processing Units

PX Series solutions of high quality are continued olive processing systems which are designed for mass processing or party type product processing and can be operated semi-automatically and constantly.

You can configure your process by yourself

The characteristics of malaxator group is that it is an adjustable system depending on customer demand. The number of reservoir can be increased or decreased based on needs. You can configure your system based on your own needs.

PLC Control in compliance with CE standards

It is possible to operate one reservoir, if needed since each malaxator reservoir is equipped with independent engine. Thanks to the programmable kneading duration, operator-free control can be ensured. The system can operate automatically without requiring several interruptions.

Efficiency

While separating the oil, great attention is attached to the energy efficiency in machinery. Thanks to new generation PX series decanter designed by Polat Makina enables oil to be obtained in the most efficient way.
